eds of People View the Burning Build! from the Mills—Guests and Servants Work Like Beavers to Save the Furniture— Light Insurance,

Shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the tankhouse of the Belmont Hotel, at the end of the Secondstreet cable road, and by noon the handsome main structure, as well as all the outbuildings, with the exception of the stable, were in ashes. The first intimation of the fire was a telephone message received at the police station that the Belmont was on fire, and asking that the engines be sent out. and asking that the engines be sent out. An alarm was at once turned in from box 31, located at the corner of Spring and Sec-31, located at the corner of Spring and Second streets. The engines at once responded, but, owin z to the distance and deep hills intervening, it was fully half an hour before they arrived at the spot, having to go around by Sixth and Pearl streets. One of the engines was stationed at the Second-street Park reservoir, the only water supply for tire purposes in the vicinity, and another up the hill, but, before they could get to work, the fire had gained such a headway that it was impossible to stay its progress, and all the energies of the firemen were directed to saving the buildings in the immeand all the energies of the firemen were directed to saving the buildings in the immediate vicinity, which they succeeded in doing, the fire being confined to the Belmont, no other damage resulting. The Eills College building was at one time threatened, as the roof was covered with sparks and pieces of burning and charred wood, but a stream of water was finally turned on and the danger averted.

THE BEST BUSINESS CHANCE TN rapidly, and the hills around the place were covered with people. At the burning building the greatest confusion prevailed, but everybody was hard at work getting out the furniture and other contents. Guests as well as servants did everything in their power to save property, and worked until driven by the heat from the building. As a result most of the boarders saved their wearing apparel and personal effects, and about half of the furniture was got out, some, however, in a damaged condition. The fire communicated to the main building through the kitchen and from the roof of the tank-house, and when it got under good headway there was nothing left to do but watch the progress of the flames in their rapid work of destruction, which in less than two hours entirely consumed one of the handsomest sucurban hotels in the State. OTIS, Times Office, Los Angeles, who has been requested to supply information to inquirers.

Mr. Patrick, one of the proprietors, was seen by the reporter shortly after 12 o'clock. He was suffering somewhat from smoke inhaled during his fight with the fire, but He was suffering somewhat from smoke inhaled during his fight with the fire, but wald he was willing to tell all he knew about it. "There is but little to tell," said Mr. Patrick. "You see .t all. As to the origin of the fire, I know nothing beyond the fact that it started in the Chinese quarters in the tank-house, between the laundry and kitchen. About 10:30 o'clock one of the servants came to me and told me the house was on fire. I immediately telephoned of the police station, and picking up a couple of the servants came to me and told me the house was on fire. I immediately telephoned of the police station, and picking up a couple of the servants came to me and told me the house was on fire. I threw the grenades on the fire and sent for the others, 200 in number, which were also used, but without effect. When the tank fell I thought we could control it, but when the main building caught on the roof I saw that there was no hope, and at once turned my attention to getting out the furniture. We had probably thirty servants about the house, and they at once turned in, women as well as men, to saw what they could. The guesta, after getting out their personal effects, also helped in removing the furniture. Most of the effects in the office were awa, as well as all the furniture on the first floor, and some on the second was thrown from the windows. I don't think anything was saved on the third floor. The furniture we valued at between $0000 and $1000 in the companies represented by R. G. Lunt. We had just put $85,000 into the building, improvements and additions, and this will be a total loss, with the exception of $1000 insurance. Our prospects for the winter were very good. hullding, improvements and additions, and this will be a total loss, with the exception of $500 insurance. Our prospects for the winter were very good. The house was on a paying basis, with all the rooms occupied. There were about sixty quests in the hotel at the time of the fire."

If, Clarke, the other proprietor, gives the following account of the fire:

About 10 o'clock the fire broke out in the Chinese quarters, which are situated at the exheuse southwest end of the building, being a wing of the main structure. Immediately over this wing was stationed a larve water lank. An ordinary garden hose was brought into service, and for a time it looked as though the fire would be mastered. But soom the water in the tank was exhausted, and in a few moments the flames were making rapid headway and the main portion of the expecture was on fire. The work of removing the furniture had already begun, however, and about 60 per cent, of the entire household effects were saved. The guest looked after their personal effects, and all goods that were laid away in trunks and bureaus were saved. Articles hanging in closets were lost.

Losses AND INSURANCE.

Owing to the confusion prevailing, and the way in which the furniture saved had been reattered, it is impossible to errive at anything like an accurate estimate of the losses. Many of the guests-also report losses of articles of value, on which they and no insurance, and upon which they can put no value. The furniture in the house was valued at between $6000 and $10,000, on which there is an insurance of $6000, divided among the companies represented by R. G. Lunt as follows: ppringfield insurance Company, $2000; Glen Palls, $2000; Howard of New York, $2000. Much of the furniture was saved, so that the loss will be nominal, if anything, to the proprietors. The $5500 expended by Messrs. Clarke and Patrick on improvements and alterations will be a total loss, with the exception of $500 insurance in the Clinton of New York. The buildings were valued at $55,000, on which there is an insurance of $200,000, SHORN, 134 W. First st.

divided among the companies represer by Frank Rust. THE BURNED BUILDING.

THE BURNED BUILDING.

The Belmont was owned by Dr. Ellis. It was built by him and opened in September, 1884, as a college. It was used for that purpose for two years, and the doctor having in the meantime erected a new college building a few hundred yards this side, it was turned into a hotel, and opened in June, 1886, with M. E. Clarke as manarer. On the 17th of March, 1887, Messrs. Clarke and Patrick fook charge of the house, having secured a long lease, and at once proceeded to improve and remodel the interior, and also made extensive additions, the result being that at the time of its destruction it was one of the most complete and well appointed hotels in the country. The grounds about the hotel were the handsomest in the city, over $10,000 having been expended in improving and beautifying them. Fortunately the flower beds and hedges were not much injured, and can soon be restored.

soon be restored.

the owner of the building, was not in the city at the time of the fire, having gone down to Sants Monica the night previous. He returned on the 4 o'clock train yesterday afternoon and at once proceeded to the college, adjoining the burned hotel. He was seen by a Trusz reporter immediately after his arrival. He said the building could not now be duplicated for less than $40,000, as it was constructed when everything was down. It was a great loss not only to him, but to the lessees, who had got the house on a paying basis, and had bright prospects before them for the coming season. He could not tell at present whether he would rebuild or not.

who testified: I am a farmer by occupation. I have known the deceased for three or four years. I only know the deceased by the name of Chena. The deceased has been at my house for the last two months. He has been side. I wanted to take him to the hospital and to get a dector for him, but he would not go and would not have any doctor. He is about 68 years of age. He died yesterday morning about 7 o'clock in my house. I do not think he is married. He drank considerable. Never knew of him having any trouble with any person. He has only been in bed sick for the last two days.

has only been in bed sick for the last two days.

Josephine Avril testified: I reside with Mr. Riviere, below this city. I am married. My husband is a laborer by occupation. I have known the deceased about three weeks. He was at Mr. Riviere's house when I got there. I do the cooking for Mr. Riviere. The deceased was doing the cooking when I went there. The next day be took sick and went to bed. He was up several times and he was back and forward around the house. Before he died he complained of a very bad caugh. He drank a good deal of wine, but did not get drunk. He would not have any doctor. Yesterdymorning I went to him with some wine and water, but he could not speak. He died shortly after.

PICKPOCKETS.

Getsing in Their Work All Over the City. The pickpockets are getting in their work in great shape. It is not known how many people are robbed of small amounts which they do not take the trouble to report to police headquarters, but occasionally a big one turns up.

The December number of this excellent periodical has just been issued, and fully maintains its high standard. It contains a number of valuable articles for the fruit-grower and intending settler, with some fine engravings. The publication is a credit to Los Angeles, and deserves liberal support.

"DETECTIVE" BRADY

His Examination for Robbery.

He Brings a Host of Witnesses Into Court, but They Fall Down.

Examining Witnesses as to Mrs. Ackerman's Love Affairs.

"Ply Cop" Who Gets Most "Awfully" Tangled Up on Cross-Examination-Thi Look Very Dark for Mr. Brady-

There was not nearly the crush of spectators in the city court yesterday morning to hear the continuation of the Brady investigation before Justice Austin that there was at the previous session two weeks ago. Beyond a host of witnesses from Arizona, who were present to testify to the general character and reputation of the defendant, the audience consisted almost entirely of officers and parties interested in the case.

the case.

The prisoner, attended by his counsel, Messrs. Gage, Stephens and Appel, came into court shortly after 9 o'clock, and the case was called immediately, Deputy District Attorneys Dunlap and McCabe appearing for the prosecution. The first person put on the stand was

R. C. PEARSON, who testified: I have pesided for some years in Tucson, Ariz., and there I was acquainted with Brady. He had a good reputation for honesty and integrity. In his cross-examination this witness simply reiterated his statement that Brady's reputation was good, and then refused to answer further questions.

answer further questions.

H. W. TENNEH

was then sworn, and testified: I have resided in Tucson four years, and knew there. His general reputation for sided in Tucson four years, and knew Brady there. His general reputation for honesty and integrity was good.

Cross-examined: I have not known Brady during the past year. I have heard Dr. Handy, one of the Supervisors, speak well of Brady, and say that of all the accounts sent in by the constables of the counts sent in by the constables of the counts. Brady's was the only one that was correct according to law. Dr. Handy made this statement to me about one month ago, while on a visit to me.

Mr. Dunlap moved to strike out all this testimony, as treating of a conversation which took place since Brady's arrest, but on the motion being combatted by Mr. Stephens it was dealed.

J. W. BRAGG

on the motion being combatted by Mr. Stephens it was dealed.

J. W. BRAGG
then testified: I reside at present at Compton, this county. I have been a resident of Tucson for four years, and while there held the offices of Justice of the Peace and City Recorder. Brady was in Tucson at that time, and was recommended by Chief of Police Butler for a position on the police force. He was appointed, and remained on the force from June or July until the following January. I know the Martinez place in this city. I walked from the Commercial-street depot near the Martinez place to the Sentous block in eight minutes. I walked it first with a rentleman from San Diego who wanted to go to the United States Land Office. I know it took us eight minutes, as I was serving on the United States Jury, and had to be in court at 10 o'clock, and so looked at my watch. I have since walked the distance in seven minutes, at the request of Mr. Brady. I did so this morning.

T. D REYMERT was next sworn, and testified: I have known the defendant about eight years, scheme of considerable magnitude and has required very constant effort on the part of A. T. Patton, who has been working upon it for some time past. It is designed to open New High street by continuing the same from its present terminus at Franklin street, through to First street. It will be inceessary to buy the property which falls in the line of this opening, but property, which falls in the line of this opening, but property, which falls in the line of this opening, but property, which falls in the line of this opening and street to Believue avenue will be richly repaid for contributions donated for the purpose of opening said street. If opened, New High street will become a business street in importance equal to Spring street, and will be a through line of travel.

A meeting of the owners along the street will be held on Wednesday, December 31st, at 4 o'clock p.m., in the University Bank, to consider the undertaking.

He Skipped.

Yesterday morning when the case of the People vs. Joe Smith, who was charged with having rolled a drunk named Frank McGuire, was called in the Superior Court, the District Attorney was surprised to learn that the prosecuting witness had skipped out. It seems that McGuire was put in the cily prison at the time of the robbery for safe keeping, but he made his escape with a lot of other prisoners and the case had to be dismissed and Smith was discharged.

The new train service now in effect on the Southern Facific and Union Facific Rallways makes the through time from Los Angeles to Chicago but a few hours more than four and a half days. Through Pullman sleeping cars are now run from this city to Council Bindfs, and the Pullman fare has been reduced to $12.50 between these two points. The Denver and Rio Grande has also put on a new fast tran service, and have a street the same man as I wanted and I wanted up the man of the man of the same man based of him if the man traned in the man of the man o testified that he resided at Tucson, and had knewn Brady there. His character at that time was good. He had known Brady over the election of Sherin Paul.

OFFICER J. M. METHYIN

testified: I am a police officer. I know the Sentous block, and Mrs. Hester, the proprietor. I have had to watch the house, and went there with Officer Moore to get two parties we understood were there in possession of some burglars' tests.

who testified: I formerly resided in Tucson, Ariz., and was there acquainted with Brady. He was then employed as brakeman and conductor on the Southern Pacific Railroad. His reputation then was good.

conductor on the Southern Pacific Hailroad.
His reputation then was good.
Cross-examined: I have known Brady about four years. I knew him as a constained and that he was elected by the people, who took pleasure in electing him. He was considered as algood, straight, honest man. His character was discussed by the Tucson Star, and people said some things against him, but I never heard any person say anything against him that I know of.

CHARLES WCORMICK

CHARLES M'CORMICK testified: I reside in Los Angeles. I am the proprietor of the Flag Cottage, Mr. Gage.
Mr. Gage: Has not Mrs. Ackerman been avisitor to your place?

Mr. Wells: We object to that question.

Mr. Gage: Mrs. Ackerman indignantly denied that she had ever been a visitor to the Fing Cottage, and we now desire to show by the propletor of that place she did visit the place.

show by the propletor of that place she did visit the place.

Mr. Wells: We object, and can show by the reporter's notes that Mrs. Ackerman did not state that she had never visited the place in question. The Court having looked looked over the notes of Mrs. Ackerman's testimony sustained the objection.

Mr.. Gage: Do you know Mrs. Acker-man?

Witness: I believe I know such a person,
think, but not by that name.
Mr. Gage: Do you know such a person nder another name, and can you describe

Mr. Gage: Do you know such a person under another name, and can you describe her?

Mr. Wells: We object to the admission of any of this testimony as we are not trying the character of Mrs. Ackerman, which at present is not at issue.

Mr. Gage: We want to introduce this testimony for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of Mrs. Ackerman, and we have a right so to do. We want to follow her up from the place where she says she was not to the time when she swears she saw the defends it, and we may prove that she was not on the scene at that time at all.

The objection was sustained.

Mr. Gage: Theu, your Honor, we would like te have Mrs. Ackerman produced in court, and if the witness identifies her, then we will proceed differently.

Mr. Wells: The witness, Mrs. Ackerman, has been discharged.

Mr. Gage: We demand that Mrs. Ackerman be produced in court.

"Let a subpona issue for the witness," said His Honor. "While I think the point submitted," continued the Justice, "rather doubtful, i will issue the order."

Mr. Gage: Your Honor, if we impeach this witness, Mrs. Ackerman-McCurdy, by proving that at the time this burglary was committed she was at this Flag Cottage; that she has ate and slept there, is not our point well taken?

"Yes, sir," said Justice Austin.

that she has are and slept there, is not our point well taken?

"Yes, sir," said Justice Austin.

"We agree to that, too," said Assistant District Attorney Dunlap.

"We demand Mrs. Ackerman-McCurdy's appearance," said Mr. Gage, "and while we await her we will call Officer Lemon."

EX-OFFICER FRANK LEMON testified; I am an ex-member of the police force. I went to the Sentous block to pull opium-smokers. I have arrested men and women in that house. "Charley" was one of them. He is a man about town, a common character. I know what the general reputation of the Sentous block is.
Mr. Duniap objected to witness stating what the reputation of the house was.
Mr. Gage: I will tell you. If we can show that the Sentous block was the resort of dope fends, thieves, crooks, gamblers and prostitutes, I think our position is tenable.
Mr. Wells argued adversely to Mr. Gage's submissions. Justice Austin could not see the relevancy of the question, and sustained the objection.
Mr. Wellis: I defy the counsel to prove EX-OFFICER FRANK LEMON

the relevancy of the question, and sustained the objection.

Mr. Wells: I defy the counsel to prove the Sentous house a resort of thieves, etc., except by the testimony of pimps, opium flends and persons of that class.

The witness: I was on the force about two years. I knew such a man as Strawberry Connolly, and knew that he had a bad reputation; that is in police circles. I donot know that he was a resident of Sentous block, of my own knowledge. I never saw him in the house. I have seen him on the stairs. I do not know what the reputation of the house was in November last as relates to its being the resort of thieves and other bad characters.

W. F. FITZGERALD

w. F. FITZGERALD testified: I now reside in Los Angeles. testified: I now reside in Los Angeles. I used to reside in Tucson, where I was one of the Associate Justices of the Territory. I knew Brady then as an officer. I cannot tell when I first knew him, but he was then a constable. My knowledge of him there is confined to his reputation as an officer, and I never heard his character discussed outside of that. He was known as an efficient and courageous officer. I met Brady here on the street, and he asked me to assist him to a position on the police force, and I did so on account of his beling a courageous him to a position on the police force, and I did so on account of his being a courageous officer, which means a great deal in Arizona. That is all I know of him, I beileve. Cross-examined: As a citizen I know nothing of him nor of his personal character or reputation. I have no personal knowledge of any indictment axainst Brady, but if such indictment was found it was by a Grand Jury which I had impanied. There had been some alleged election frauds, and I instructed the Grand Jury to thoroughly go into the matter, but whether an indictment was found against Brady I do not know of my own knowledge. That Brady was connected with those frauds I did not know until the other day, after I had given Brady a recommendation to go on the police force.

FRANK LEMON (REGALLED).

I made some arrests in the Sentous block.

I arrested a woman there who I thought was a prostitute, and talked with Mrs. Hester about her. I made no arrest there after that. I made some arrests in the Sentous block ross-examined: I spoke to Mrs. Hester ut this woman next day after the arrest, she told me she had tried to get rid of woman ns she did not like her asates, and the room was always in diser. Mrs. Hester expressed her thanks are for cleaning out that woman. Ir, Gage here announced that the officer id not find Mrs. Ackerman, and asked a subpœna returnable forthwith.

for a subpena returnable forthwith.

H. O. GOODWIN

testified: I am a resident of Los Angles.
Formerly resided at Tucson and knew Mr.
Brady in that city. His reputation was good for honesty and integrity.
Cross-examined: I know an indictment was found against him. I never heard anything against him as regards his character.
I have lived here about four mouths. I was astonished to read in the papers of his acrest.

JOHN E. MOORE
I am an ex-officer of police in
I know Mrs. Hester. I have known hr seven or eight months. She known hr seven or eight months. She knew Brady before November 17th. I know this because she asked me who that man was who went through the house several times looking for men who were wanted on varisons charges. I have often talked with Mrs. Rester. Went these with officer Methvin. I was cloing detective work at the time. I was there with Aiford one day when Mrs. Rester. Went these with officer Methvin. I was clong detective work at the time. I was there with Aiford one day when Mrs. Rester said she expected Mr. Wells there ery soon, and she then asked us to go into the kitchen. We went there and found irs. Lord and the children in the room. I now Mrs. Ackerman. A number of mestions were then asked regarding the lentity of Mrs. Ackerman, but in every see the questions were objected to by unusel for the People on the grounds that e counsel for the defendant was endeavort to throw "smutt" on the reputation of at witness.

that she testified her, name was Ackerman she introduced a man as her husband whose name was not Ackerman. This was agreed to by the counsel for the People, but Mr. Gage entirely failed to produce the proof he stated he could. The question then asked by him of the witness was objected to, and the objection was sustained. The witness continued: I do not think Mrs. Ackerman introduced any person to me as her husband whose name is McCurdy, but I was present when Mrs. Hester introduced her to Mr. Alford and myself as Mrs. McCurdy. Since November 17th i do not know that she has gone under the name of McCurdy. Since November 17th i do not know that she has gone under the most liberal of rulings, but you have shown nothing else but the fact that a divorced woman has been introduced to a third party under a different name.

The witness: I have not known Mrs. Ackerman under any other name, nor was I in court when she testified. I seen Mrs. McCurdy in room Mo. 2 at the Sentous block. I had a talk with Mrs. Hester about Brady once, but don't know whether it was before or after November 17th. She said she would throw some hot water over him if he kept hanging around there. I know a man called Strawberry Connolly. He has been convicted, but I don't know whether he went to the pen or house of correction. I don't know what he was senticed of, or when he was sent up.

The Court: If that is the case this testimony should be stricken out.

Mr. Gage: We want to prove that Mrs. Hester knew that this convict was a habitue of her house.

The Court: This witness has proved nothing, and his testimony must be struck out.

Mr. Gage: We want to prove that Mrs. Hester knew that this convict was a habitue of her house.

The Court: This witness has proved nothing, and his testimony must be struck out.

Mr. Gage: We want to prove that Mrs. Hester knew that this convict was a habitue of her house.

elates are bad. I know he is the associate of known thieves—men who have been convicted.

Cross-examined: I was an officer four weeks ago. I was dismissed by the Police Commissioners. Mrs. Hester knew Brady, because she asked me once who he was, and I told her it was Brady. It was some time in October—during the latter part of the month or early in November. Don't know what day it was, but it was after a party there and Brady was with me. I don't know whether Mrs. Hester saw Brady then or not. She did not tell me she knew Brady. I don't know that Mrs. Hester knew anybody was there. I said said she knew Brady, because she asked me who that man was who was with me. While with Brady we never met Mrs. Hester, nor could I swear that she ever saw Brady. I have been through the house several times with Officers Alford, Lemon and Methvin. I thought she meant Brady, because she was acquainted with the other officers. She might have meant either of the others for all I know. It was after 8 o'clock that day, and I was doing special duty to which I had been assigned. Either the Chief or the Capitaln can assign a man to special duty. If I had not been assigned I would not have been there. I have not sworn that Mrs. Hester knew Brady. I only swore that she asked me the question who that man was, and from that question and my answer I inferred she knew Brady. It was after November IT when Col. Wells came in there at the Sentous block, and we went into the kitchen. Mr. Appel and I also went up there together. I made no arrest when I went to look after the suspicious characters in that house. The building is left open all night.

The court here took a recess until 9:30 this morning.

When Pt. Concho, Tex., was one of the new and remote posts on the western frontier, bordering upon the "Staked Plains," buffalo grazed almost at the back doors of the company quarters. On one occasion, writes an officer of the Fourth United States Cavalry in Outing, a large, white, English buildog belonging to the regimental band had a desperate fight with a bull buffalo that had been wounded by a rife ball. "King," the buildog, singled out the immense wounded leader, who had alackened his speed and was faltering in his tracks. He sprang at his throat with great courage, fastened upon him, and the battle commenced, with the column as silent spectators.

It was a novel spectacle; the bronzed troopers; the great, shaggy beasts thundering by: the white-topped wagon train closed up and halted; the fleeting shadows and the almost limitless stretch of surrounding prairie and vast solitude. The bull went down upon his knees, but so great was his strength that he quickly arose and whirled the dog in great circles over his head. "King" had been taught never to let go. The entire command now watched with breathless attention the apparently unequal struggle, expecting every moment to see the dog crushed to death. Down went the bull again on his knees, but to gore the dog; rising, he would stamp his feet in his rage, then shaking him awhile he would resume swinging and snapping him like a whipcord through the air. The foam, now bloody, flecked the long, tawny beard of the bison bull. His eyes, nearly concealed in the long, matted hair that covered his shaggy head, flashed fire, and his rage knew no bounds. The dog, which had commenced the fight a pure white, now turned to spotted crimson from blood which had flowed from the buffalo's wounds, and still the brute instincts, tenacious courage and training led him to hold on. Had he let go for a moment the crazed bull would have gored him to death before he could have retreated. The bull grew perceptibly weaker; he rose to his feet less often. He could no longer throw the dog spread himself upon the vast prairie dead. Not till then dit "King" let go!

The Way Tulare Talks.
[Tulare Register.]

The exodus to California is on the increase and all the avenues of travel are blocked. Emigrants have to lay ever at Kansas City from three to five days in order to find seats on west-bound trains. All the engines are required to haul passengers, and freight trains are side-tracked at every station from the Missouri River to the Colorado. It is believed that more than 200,000 passengers will come to California this winter as early as possible. This means fully 1000 train-loads. Where are they all going? To what Mecca de they flee? Is there any doubt? Does not every one know that they go to Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diego?

We believe that four-fifths of the tickets are purchased for these three points. If a portion settle elsewhere, it will be after they have moved on. The rest of the State must rest content with the overflow from these three sounties. We are not complaining. This is as it should be. From nothing—anothing comes. Southern California sowed while all the rest of the State slept, and Southern California is now garnering the harvest, leaving only the gleanings for the rest of the State to squabble over. But, in so rich a harvest, even the gleanings are worth fighting for. The overflow from the three counties named will grow larger and larger, and will soon assume the proportions of a flood.

and larger, and will soon assume the proportions of a flood.

Jenny Lind.

The stories of Jenny Lind which have followed close upon the death of the noted songstress, reveal her in a light which will greatly endear her memory to the world. Nothing which can now be said of her can augment the measure of fame which, as an artist, she was permitted for so many years to enjoy. But now that she is gone, all those sweet and womanly attributes which won the hearts of people as her inimitable voice compelled their wonder and admiration, are recalled, and once again related with the eloquence of mingled love and regret. This divinely-gifted woman employed her rare endowments not for the purposes of sordid aggrandizement, but in the light of the noble conviction that the talent of which she was the favored possessor would one day be required at her hands by its giver with such increase as a faithful and diligent steward might be able to render. Thus it was that her voice was so freely raised for the succor of the distressed and the amelioration of the unfortunate and needy. Its sympathetic strains filled the most colossal structures on the American continent, in the cause of charity, and through its persuasive medium cemfort found its way to many darkened homes. In the flight of years the name of Jenny Lind, the sorgstress, may become a tradition among the generations of men yet to come; but the story of her sweet benefactions to the suffering of her race will never atterly perish from the memory of the world.

"I should think," said Ethel, "it would feel so funny to have a mustache on your lip. Doesn't it tickle you all the time?" "No." said Æthelred, boldly, "it does not feel strange at all. See—" And just then the brooding owl that to the moon complained from yonder mantled tower was scared out of a year's hooting by a startling sound something like the final exhaust of a bath-tub at midnight's silent hour, only louder and more abrupt. "Oh!" said Ethel, in a sweet little voice; and "Ah!" said Æthelred, with the satisfied tone of a man who has just swallowed a large, wide, long, brand new oyster.

SAN FRANCISCO

On reading in the Star of Tuesday a story quoted from the Chicago Tribune and credited to Col. Babcock about Gen. Grant, I felt impressed to tell wriefly what I know of Gen. Grant's entrance into the army in 1861. Grant visited Springfield in May, 1861, armed with a letter to Gov. Yates from Hon. Mr. Washburne. The Governor turned him over to his Adjutant-General, Tom Mather, who asked him: "What can you do?" "I can organize and regissent." A captain's commission was handed the future general, and he was ordered to proceed at ouce to Mattoon and muster in the Twenty-first Illinois Infantry. Cept. Good of Decatur had been elected Colonel, but he proved a failure, and a petition signed by a majority of the Twenty-first asked the Governor not to commission him. The Governor yielded to the wish of the men in this regard, and instead of asking them to elect another commandes he commissioned Capt. Grant colonel, and assigned him to the command of the regiment he had organized. I was in Mattoon at that time, and was personally familiar with the facts here given, and therefore know that the Babcock-Tribune story is purely familiar.

Now Offered at Private Sale.

This celebrated orchard, known throughout the world, and in the actual occupancy and possession of one family for over 50 years, has been subdivided with great care into Business and Residence Lots!

To meet the urgent demands of business, traffic and habitation.

Wolfskill avenue is 100 feet wide, and four of its principal avenues are 80 feet wide.

A strip of land—300x1900 feet in size—fronting on Alameda street, between Fourth and Sixth streets, containing 13 acres, was donated by the owners to the Southern Pacific Raliroad Company, who are now building upon said land its general passenger depot, similar in design but more elaborate and expensive than the Arcade depot at Sacramento. The ground-plans and elevation of this depot, one of the finest in the world, are now on view at our office. The building will be 507 4-12 feet long and 141 feet wide; the main approach and entrance facing Fifth street and Wolfskill avenue, the trains entering the depot from Alameda side. The building will be constructed of brick, stone, iron, glass, and fittings in natural wood, and will be one of the finest structures of the kind in America, being completed with every convenience for the traveling public.

Every street leads from the most valuable part of the city, and the tract itself is within four short blocks of the new postoffice site and the very heart of Los Angeles. We have never before had the pleasure of offering so fine a plece of property to the public in the whole twenty years of our real estate experience, and we personally recommend this tract to all of our friends and acquaintances, feeling sure they will double their money in 6 months.

STATISTICS OF BUILDING.

In the Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, to be issued January 1, 1888, it is desired to present as full statistics as possi ble of the building operations in Los Ange les during the year now drawing to a close Unfortunately, there is no official record of these new structures, as the city; governhas no superintendent of buildings The lists furnished by the architects com prehend only the more important edifices nd are notably incomplete. THE TIMES herefore appeals directly to owners and builders, requesting that each furnish a concise statement of any building or buildings erected for him, or by him, during the year. The statement should embrace the following facts:

- 1. Owner's name. 9. Character of building, whether of brick
- or stone, residence or business h 3. Number of stories.

4. Number of apartments 5. Cost and location.

It is for the interest of all that an ade quate showing be made of this phase of the city's progress, and we therefore reques operation of all who have had to do Better Protection from Fire Needed.

The burning of the Belmont Hotel. which occurred yesterday forenoon, has caused every well-wisher of Los Angeles to feel a pang of regret. The Belmont was the principal of the two or three suburban hotels which Los Angeles possessed, and we can illy afford to lose it at this time when the city is overrun with visitors, and when first-class accommodations are scarce. With its commanding site, its fine appointments and furnishings, its beautiful grounds that, under the culture of a skilled gardener, showed so well the floral and landscape possibilities of this section, the Belmont was an ob-ject of universal pride and satisfaction. That this charming resort should be snuffed out in an hour, seems like a

This public calamity-for it must b so considered — calls to mind and emphasizes very strongly an idea which has long been accepted and often expressed that the western portions of the city are practically denied of protection from fire. The fire engines, which are all stationed in mote to allow of prompt attendance at a fire in the hill section, even allowing that there were direct and passable streets to haul them over, which there are not. As an illustration we may state that, in reaching the scene of yesterday's conflagration, the engines were obliged to make a detour by way of Sixth and Pearl streets, going at least eight blocks out of a direct course. A great deal of property may go up in smoke while an engine is traveling eight blocks and hunting its way through ungraded and little-use

As to the water supply in the hill section, that is really an undetermined problem. On some streets the mains may be large enough and the pressure sufficient to furnish a good supply for an engine, but the chances are that or those streets there are no hydrants All through this rapidly-developed section of the city there is noticeable the most glaring neglect of the simplest precautions against fire, and even if engines were afforded, it is doubtful whether they could be rea dered very serviceable.

While this state of affairs exists, it should be borne in mind that buildings and personal effects, aggregating several millions of dollars in value, are ocated on the western hills. Some of the most elegant and costly residences of the city are amougst the number. Public edifices and business blocks are thickly built up. A peculiarity of this section is that nearly all of the buildings are constructed of wood. Because a kindly providence that is popularly supposed to temper the wind to a shorn lamb, has spared this defenseless section from a sweep ing conflagration thus far, it is no guar anty that it will always be thus lenient The plain duty of the city govern nent is to see that such unpardonable neglect of the hill section of Los Angeles is not longer continued. Where water pipes of sufficient size are not ey should be extended as soo as possible and fire hydrants should be supplied at available places. There should be at least one engine and on hook and ladder company located on the west side at focal points. Even with these precautions, which are only scant justice, the west side would no enjoy as good protection as other por-tions of the city, because the steep and ungraded streets of the hills are not promotive of quick communication.

And, while discussing this subject of protection from fire, it might not be out of order to inquire into the ade quacy of the water supply in the lower levels of the city. At numbers of fires in the past there has been complaint of a shortage of water. Sometimes the fault has been attributed to small connections, sometimes to small pipes and ometimes to short supply. The Council would not go amiss if it should instruct its Committee on Fire and Water to make a thorough investiga-tion of the whole subject, and report at the earliest practicable opportunity

Uncle Sam's Outgo.

It takes a good deal of money to keep the machinery of the Govern-ment in running order. In his recent esitmate for the appropriations from many of these places. There will be a parade in the city, if the authorities will permit it, and speeches by the foremost Anarchists of the country at ations amounting to $326,530,793 will be called for, which s $1,344,999 more than was called for in the esti-mates submitted last year, and $16,-899,400 more than the aggregate appropriations for the present fiscal year. It would be some comfort if out of these larger appropriations enough could be secured to properly increas-the postal facilities in the growin towns and cities of Southern California

It is to be hoped that the new Council will go to work with a will on the sewer question. It is a matter which grows more difficult to cope with the longer it is postponed, and it can not safely be shelved much longer Upon the satisfactory solution of this uestion will depend, not only the of a large number of desirable families who are hesitating as to whether they shall make their homes with us. Los Angeles cannot afford to be distanced in this matter by towns of one-tenth ner size and importance.

A SPECIAL to THE TIMES a few days ago reported that it is now believed that the preliminary work on the Salt Lake and Los Angeles Bailroad scheme has been carried on in the interest of the Southern Pacific Company. The people of Los Angeles would prefer to see the line built by a rival corporation, o as to insure another competitive transcontinental line, but whoever may build it, this city will be a great gainer by the new enterprise. It will tap a very rich mineral section, and open up new markets to our merchants.

Los Angeles was scarcely conscious of the heavy blow which did considerable damage in this vicinity on Tuesday night. The Spaniards who found this city had the pick of the whole countries of the try and knew what they were doing when they selected the site of Los Angeles. There are few locations in Southern California which can equal it, climatically, and none which are Louis Mawson.

Louis Mwason was more than surprised yesterday morning when he read of his love-making and attempted suicide in The Trues. He was just beginning to flatter himself that he had outwitted the wide-awake reporters, and when he read all about himself, his heart went way down in his boots. In the afternoon he sought Zoe and asked for a private interview. What their conversation amounted to no one will ever know, but Mr. Mawson took the 7:30 train for San Francisco to escape the taunts of his friends and relatives. He is related, by the way, to several of the biggest Jewish families in the city.

A Sad Case.

Vanie Sawyer of Lordsburg, this county, was examined before Judge Gardiner yesterday, on the charge of insanity, and, on the recommendation of Drs. W. W: Ross and I. E. By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—[Special.] A controversy is going on between the Chronicle and Examiner as to whether the Examiner's press, a new Hoe, can print, fold and deliver more eight-page papers per hour than both the Chronicle's presses combined. That the Examiner' believes its press can accomplish this is shown by its wager to that effect of any sum of money the Chronicle may name, said money to go to charitable institutions. The Chronicle has accepted the offer. It lays $25,000 that the Examiner's claim is not good. The latter has already placed its $25,000 in the Nevada, Bank. The conditions proposed by the Examiner are: Trial to take place within thirty days after the Examiner's press is declared in good running order; to which the Chronicle adds that the copies must be legible, and the winner shall name the charities to benefit by the trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—[Special.] Concerning his letter to Attorney-General Garland, Col. Irish today said that the letter was written in the interests of the United States Government in the pending litigation, which were seriously damaged by groweding upon Corney attorneys like litigation, which were seriously damaged by crowding upon Carey attorneys like Delmas, not friendly to him, and with whom he could not freely cooperate; that Delmas failed to disprove the unfriendliness by merely stating that Gen. Carey politely conveyed him the message from the Pacific Rallway Investigating Commission. Pacific Kallway investigating Commission.
Irish then said: "Mr. Delmas raises issues outside my letter. I did not say anything about Denny Spencer of Napa or the probable revival of his candidacy for the United States District Attorneyship. Mr. Delmas' statement to the contrary only proves that those most reckless in assailing the verselty. ose most reckless in assailing the veracity proceedings with Special Agent Chalmers at Los Angeles were strictly true and susceptible of direct proof. The admission of Mr. Delmas that the meeting was sought and held there is sufficient evidence for the present. I have thus far not seen the occasion for the impeachment of Gen. Carey, or any other Federal appointee of President Claveland on this coast."

Sachamerto, Dec. 16.—An excursion train for Oregon, bearing a large delegation of Californians to witness the driving of the last spike on the California and Oregon Raliroad, left Sacramento about 7:45 p.m. Besides the people from San Francisco and intermediate stations, many boarded the train in this city. Among the representatives from here were Mayor E. J. Gregory and members of the Board of Trade and prominent business men. The excursionists met at the rooms of the Improvement Association, and were escorted to the railway station by the First Artillery Band. All arrangements have been made for receiving the news of the spike-driving in this town tomorrow afternoon, as an electric wire is connected with the spike, and the fire-alarm system will receive and carry each blow of the sliver sledge. When the information arrives that California and Oregon have been joined together by bars of steel, all the belis and whisties in the city will be sounded, and the battery of Company B will fire a salute of thirteen guns.

compelled to form themselves into State federations, yet they were strongly urged to do so.

After recess, the consideration of the constitution was completed, and the document adopted. It was resolved to ask Congress to shorten the hours of labor in view of the decreased number of workmen needed on account of labor-saving machinery.

The committee reported that a rapid growth of the order had resulted fromfirst, the avowed purpose of the federation to allow each trade to govern itself; second, the discontent of the Knights of Labor at the bad management of their affairs and the desperate use of strikes. The committee recommended the timost resistance to the encroachments of the Knights of Labor, inasmuch as that organization shows itself opposed to the principles of trades unionsm. An Important Decision on the Validity of County Bonds.

Raby-Another Slave-Dealer in the Tolla Creighton's Bundsmen Gain a Point-McCord's Case.

By Telegroph to The Times.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 16.—[Special.] Capt. Nelson, master of the steamer Carlos Pacheco, was arrested today on a charge of having thrown the dynamite bomb which blew a hole through the bows of the Anerican bark Otago at the Santa Fé wharf on Monday night, November 28th. The arrest was made at the instance of one Weller, who also served the warrant. Weller was formerly employed on the Carlos Pacheco, but had been discharged, and Capt. Nelson asserts that the arrest was through the spite of the ex-employee. On the other hand, Weller is confident that conclusive evidence of the Captain's guilt will be shown. On arraignment before the City Recorder, Nelson was held for examination next Wednesday, with ball fixed at $2000, Bondsmen were promptly obtained.

A SUICIDE.

James A. Dowd, who came here recently with a brother from Socorro, N. M., committed suicide at his room at the corner of Third and E streets today. From the wound and position of Dowd, when found, he evidently stood before the bureau-glass and held the muzzle of the revolver above his head and shot downward, blowing out his brains. Death was instantaneous. Deceased was in good circumstances, and the cause assigned for the act is despondency from ill health.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Purchasers' of Bonds Must be Sure of Their Validity.

San Francisco, Dec. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Court has rendered a decision in the case of Charles Sutro against B. F. Pettit, Treasurer of San Luis Obispo county. In 1870 the Legislature passed an act allowing the Supervisors of that county to issue bonds to raise $40,000 for the construction of a courthouse. The county officers issued bonds to the amount of $43,000, which was $3000 in excess of the amount allowed by the a.t. Sutropurchased the 30 extra $100 bonds, and amount of #49,000, which was $3000 in excess of the amount allowed by the a.t. Sutro purchased the 30 extra $100 bonds, and when the time arrived for the county to liquidate its debts the Treasurer refused to pay the $2000. The Supreme Court holds that the purchaser must lose what he paid, for had he inquired before purchasing he would have discovered their worthlessness. People must be protected against careless or unscrupulous officers.

STRANGE STORY.

Another Chapter in the Murder Con SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16.— By the Ass ciated Press. In an Interview today wit Charles Dodge, charged with embezzl ment, he said: "Before Kendall suggeste the murder and robbery of young Simpson he proposed to George W. Jackson and my-self that we purchase abstract books of the old man Cross and John J. Buckley. Kenold man Cross and John J. Buckley. Kendall said that he would steal some records from the County Recorder's office, and the Supervisors would have to expend $50,000 or more to replace them, the firm getting the job. Of course Jackson and I laughed at the idea, and did not entertain it for a moment."

Napa's Prosperous Vineyards.
San Francisco, Dec. 16.—An elaborate report of the vineyards and wine production of Napa county is being prepared by Charles Krug, viticultural commissioner for the Napa district. He says: The acreage in vitics in 1887 is more than three times in vines in 1887 is more than three time what it was six years ago. There we what it was six years ago. Inter were $89,595 tons of grapes gathered in 1886, which yielded 4,468,000 gallons of wine and 102,323 gallons of brandy. Of this about one-third was zinfandel, and another third white wines. In 1887 there were planted 651 acres of resistant vines.

High License Wins.

REDWOOD CITY, Dec. 16.—A decision was rendered by Judge Head today in the license-tax cases upholding the license ordinance and affirming the right of the county to collect a license-tax of $75 per quarter, as passed by the supervisors. This was a test case of the liquor-men against the license, which virtually settles the fight, compelling all liquor-dealers throughout the county to pay $75 per quarter nging Speech by Gen. Goff-Cleveland's Mess Accepted as His Party's Slogan-Protection for American Labor to Bo the Republican Watchword.

By Telegroph to The Times.

New York, Dec. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The convention of Republican clubs was called to order shortly after 11 o'clock. The first business was reports of committees. There were 313 club names read, many of them suggestive of distinguished leaders of the party. The cheering was aimost continuous as the following names were repeated: John Sherman, U. S. Grant, Charles Summer, John A. Logan, Ben Wade, Abraham Lincoln and James G. Blaine. The last named was greeted with tremendous cheering, but it was noticed that many delegates did not join it.

Gen. Robinson, of the Grant club, Binghampton, N. Y., offered the following:

Resolved, that it is the duty of the Government to place our country under such a state of defense as will command the respect of all nations, and for this purpose a large portion of surplus revenue should be devoted to fortifying harbors, building ships for the navy, and the manufacture of modern artillery for the proper armament of same.

without debate to the Committee on Resolutions.

LAMAR'S APPOINTMENT DENOUNCED.
Grosvenor of Ohio offered the following resolution, which caused a sensation:
WHEREAS, it is the opinion of this convention of Republican clubs that no man who at any time denounced Abraham Lincoln, while he was President of the United States, as a "buffoon and clown:" or who ever declared from his scat in the United States Sensate that no man should denounce Jefferson Davis as a trailor in his presence and go unrebuked by him; or who, in his official capacity as Secretary of the Interior, ordered the United States flag to be displayed at half mast on the occasion of the death of Jacob Thompson; or who, as Senator of the United States many years after, refused to vote that the ten'h, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution are valid and binding, ought to be appointed to or hold the high office of Justice of the Superior Court of the United States; therefore, ved, that L. Q. Lamar ought not been appointed Justice of said

SENATOR EVARTS CHAIRMAN.

The convention elected William M. Evpermanent chairman. He came on platform amidst applause, and was introduced by Judge Ryan. He congratulated the convention on its organization, and said its work would not interfere with any present established organization of the party. It would, (like the grand old party), sever acknowledge that there could be chosen a candidate greater than the party. Clubs or leagues that will be organized now will prove the organization agents and channels for enforcing sound political purposes from which the Republican party never shrinks or fears. Thus the suffrage of this country will be formed and made permanent with Republican principles.

A draft for a constitution of a national organization, to be known as the Republican League of the United States, was presented. A president, three vice-presidents, a secretary and treasurer are to be the officers. A draft of a constitution for State leagues was also presented. The latter are to hold annual conventions. Any club having twenty members and duly organized is entitled to membership in the State leagues.

that there were 1350 debegates present and 350 clubs represented.

After Chairman Evarts had taken his seat, there were repeated calls for Gen. Nathan Goff of West Virginia. He was escorted to the platform. After thanking the convention for its welcome, he said: "I come from a land south of Mason and Dixon's line, and represent Republicans. We are for a country that, before the organization of the Republican party, was suffering from the blight of slavery, ignorance and Democracy. We believe that American labor and industry should be protected by law. The Democratic party has been false to that idea." The speaker then referred to the war, in which West Virginia's sons fought, some on the side of the Union, and some under the stars and baze, but they all voted for James G. Riaine at the last election. Gen. Goff concluded as follows: "With Allison of Iowa, Lincoln of Illinois, Harrison of Indiana. Sherman of Ohio, Hawley of Connecticut, Evarts and Hiscock of New York, Phil Sheridan of the United States, and last, but they no means least, Balane of Maine, we should win."

Cheers followed each name. At the Sheridan of the United States, and lass, but by no means least, Blaine of Maine, we should win."

Cheers followed each name. At the close of Gen. Goff's remarks the report of the Committee on Resolutions was read by Hon. J. A. Kasson of Iowa.

Hon, J. A. Kasson of Iowa.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

The report begins: "The associated delegate of the Republican clubs of the United States, now assembled for the first time in national convention, deem it a fit occasion for declaring to their countrymen the purposes of their organization. We hold it our duty, especially to the young men of the country, whose patriotic sentiments would rouse into political activity, to give them reasons which will justify and demand their zealous concurrence and active cobperation in our efforts."

A lengthy and careful review is then made of the decds of the Republican party from its earliest organization, its works, improvement, reform, etc. The report then says:

improvement, reform, etc. The report the says:

Appalling Results of a Boiler Explosion in Pennsylvania.

We, therefore, appealing to the feregoing history of the Republican party and that of the country identified with it, make the following declaration:

We emphatically refuse to abandon the policy of home protection on which our unexampled national prosperity and progress are founded. The effect of the Democratic policy would be disastrous by transferring our working people of their employment and wages for the benefit of British manufacturers; by exhausting our accumulated capital in the payment of foreign debts in curred for imported merchandise, and by damaging the entire system of industrial and commercial intercourse. We protest against it in the name of all American labor and enterprises. We recognize in the message of the head of the Democratic party a tender to the country of the choice between supporting the laborers and industries of Great Brital n and Enrope generally, on the one fhand, and, on the other, supporting the laboring men and industrial enterprises of America. We respectfully decline the former, which he recommends, and will stand by our peo-

ds the

terests of the entire country. Its supreme object is to render America Independent of Europe; to render the United States self-ustaining; to keep our money at home and give employment to our own working people; to substitute home competition for foreign; to build up towns and villages; to encourage agriculture and enhance the value of farmers; to provide home markets for farms; to adapt our manufactures to our domestic wants; to promote the opening of rapid and cheap communication between States and Territories; to open mines and develop all the vast resources of our country, so richly bleased of God in all that is needed to make a country great, contented and happy. While the Republican party has, since the war, repeatedly cut down taxation, and has uniformly, when in power, kept the surplus within a safe limit, the Democracy has shown themselves incompetent for either duty, and by persistently refusing any reduction of taxes unless coupled with a destructive assault on American industries, are responsible for the accumulation of the existing surplus and all the dangers it involves. We believe that only the restoration of Republican supremacy angive assurance of reduced taxes, revised tariff and limited surplus, with the preservative policy which alone saves us from becoming the commercial slave of Europe.

CLEVELAND SEVERELY SCORED. We asknowledge that there yet remains work of citizenship to be accomplished. there are relies of barbarism, still but par work of citizenship to be accomplished. There are relies of barbarism, still but partially eradicated, still contesting their rights of supremacy, and among them are polygamy, ignorance and intemperance. Remembering that the Republican party was founded upon the principles of liberty qualified by law and good order of society, these associated clubs cannot fail te continue to war against these triplots of barbarism till they are buried in the grass, where slavery sleeps eternally. While these delegates were preparing to assemble in council for their patriotic work as dutiful citizens, they and all their countrymen verse stounded by a message from a Democratic Chief Magistrate of the United States which abandoned all the precedents of his predecessors. The Constitution requires him to give Congress information of the state of the Union. Every President from Washington to Arthur has annually performed this duty with dignity. This President has descended so far from their practice as to allow himself to convert this constitutional duty into a partisan speech for the complete overthrow of the policy recommended by the founders of the government, and especially indorsed by his carliest predecessors in office. We therefore call the attention of our countryment to the fact to their own recent history under the influence of the policy of protection."

under the influence of the policy of protection."
Statistics are then quoted going to show the large increase in property and growth of the country in all ways since 1861 under the protection policy.
"The continued refusal of the Democratic House of Representatives to admit Territories with populations of high character of intelligence, exceeding in number that of several States in the Union, should arouse the indignation of all true Americans who believe in home rule and constitutional rights. We demand, as an indispensable bulwark of national security, a free, honest ballot and a fair count. We charge the Democratic party with failing to provide from our abundant resources for the building up of a more efficient navy, and demand a rigorous assertion of American statesmanship which shall restore the respect once accorded the just demands of our Republic."

The report also touched on the matter of pensions for soldiers and on civil-service abuses. The report was unanimously adopted.

THE DEATH PENALTY.

Execution of Thurston Lee at Baker

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] Thurston Lee was hange is atternoon for the murder of John mith in March, 1887. Smith's body, was found near White Wolf Springs at the bottom of a deep guich, and subsequent investigations proved that he left Bakersfield a short time before for New Mexico, in company with two brothers, Thurston and Theodore Lee. The men were arrested in New Mexico and Smith's horse and some of his clothing were found in the prossession of Thurston, who was afterion of Thurston, who was after president, with a long list of vice-presidents, including A. C. Morrison of Arizona and W. C. Squires of Washington Territory. The chief secretary, Charles W. Johnson of Minnesota, with nine assistants, was named.

A recess was taken till 3 p.m. The delegations of the several States and Territories to select a vice-president and member of the Executive Committee of the National League met in the meablume.

In the afternoon session the following names were presented by the State of New York as officers of the proposed National League: President, Channey M. Depew, of New York; Vice-President, James E. Blanchard, of New York; Edgar T. Brackett.

A count made during the recess showed that there were 1350 delegates present and 350 clubs represented.

Thurston Lee made a written confession a few days ago and exonerated his brother from all connection with the number of the Male connection with the number. Lee's last hours were passed in the company of his brother, father and spiritual adviser. Last night until 12 o'clock he played euterhe with his brother Theodore, when he retired and slept soundly until 8:30 this morning, when he was awakened and particok of his usual light breakfast, after suit of clothes. He was very particular of the was family and required that a dotted handkerehief, instead of a white one, be furnished him, which request was granted.

A count made during the recess showed that there were 1350 delegates present and 350 clubs represented.

an incline leading to the scaffold, he stopped and shook hands with acquaintances and said good-by. Then turning to the crowd he said: "Gentlemen, I bid you all goodby."
After reaching the scaffold be turned to his attorneys and shook each by the hand and bid them goodby and said: "Mr. Mahon, I thank you for what you have done for me. Do all you can for my brother."
Then, turning around toward the crowd, he said: "I have committed a great crime and I am going to suffer for it. I am sorry I did it.—I warn all young men to let whisky did it. I warn all young men to let whisky alone."

He then stepped to the middle of the trap and, asked, "Shall I stand here?" at the same time looking down at his feet. His right hand was then strapped and the noose placed over his head and adjusted. As the black cap was about to be placed over his head he said: "I desire to speak again;" and in a clear voice he said: "My brother is charged with the same crime I sm. He is innocent and knows nothing about it. Gentlemen, I bid you all goodby."

The cap was then drawn over his head and the next instant the trap was sprung. When he reached the end of the rope his body rebounded about a foot, and then remained raottonless a few accounds. Then the feet were drawn upward a few inches, the chest. heaved twice, as if he were taking a long breath, and all was over. Fourteen minutes after the trap was sprung he was pronounced dead by the physicians. He was 23 years of age.

Berlin, Dec. 16.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] According to the Reichson-zeiger's version of Gen. Von Schellendorff's speech on the Military Bill today the Minister of War said that the object of the bill could be perfectly suamed up in the words of the Emperor on the opening of Parliament, that "the Empire, by God's help, should become so strong that it could meet every danger with calmness from whichever quarter it might be attacked." The Minister said that danger was threatened, not from the warlike disposition of the allied powers, for the German people always leaned toward peace, but from the attacks by other people. The Empire was strong and it had allies, but in war its might depended only upon its own strength. It must be made so powerful that it would be feared as a foe and courted as an ally. Germans, he felt sure, would not be sparing of their powers when the time came for beating off an enemy.

Nearly all day yesterday was taken up with the case of Matthews and Trinol, charged with disturbing the religious neeting held at the Salvation Army hall. From the evidence of numerous witnesses who sat near the boys, they were not guilty, and the court so ruled and dismissed the case.

Patsey Bolivar, for disturbing the peace, pleaded guilty and was fined $0.

James Rausey and Walter Graham, alias John Graham, appeared next, charged with the theft of a coat from No. 12% North Main street. Both pleaded not guilty, and their trials were set for December 20th at 10 a.m.

Beras, for disturbing the peace,

The Hotel Arcadia at Santa Monion, which is only fitteen miles from Los Angeles, fifty minutes ride by Southern Pacific Raitroad, is situated on the border of the Pacific Ocean, and is the best conducted and appointed hotel in Southern California, and as a winter resort it has no equal. We mention a few of the advantages to give our readers an idea of the comforts to be enjoyed: Warm days and nights, elevator, gas, electric bells, hot salt water baths, indies and gent's billiard parties, open see baths, every room an outside room, six hundred feet of porches, also sun porches, grand garden ou land side, terraces and lawn on ocean side, all public rooms overlook the great Pacific. The table and service is the feature of the place.

Water is king in California. Strangers hould beware of deception about this indispensable article. Citrus fruits can't be raised without it. Many seliers promise water, but few can show it and guarantee it. The Porter Land and Water Company, Kirst and Spring streets, invite inspection of their lands and water at San Perdando.

rement Land Which Had Not Located – Justice Tancy a Night Session-Bound Over.

The case against Frederick Ford and M. A. Loog, charged with conspiracy and obtaining money under false pretenses, was resumed before Justice Taney last night, and occupied the attention of the court up to 10 o'clock before arguments were finished and the Court's decision rendered. The following is the case in substance, as it appeared from the evidence: A woman named Lorinda V. Munn called at the office of Long, who keeps an employment agency, appeared from the evidence: A woman named Lorinda V. Munn called at the office of Long, who keeps an employment agency, and also makes an odd ripple in real estate, on October 25th last, and talked of securing for her a situation and afterward talked of buying a lot or two. Still later in the conversation she said she would like to buy a ranch. Long asked her how much she had to put in a ranch, and she answered him she had 500. He told her that amount would not be sufficient to buy a ranch, but that she might be able to buy a relinquishment of a piece of Lovernment land which had been precupited. She asked if he had any such relinquishment, and he told her that he thought a friend of his had a quarter section which might be gotten for the $500, and that if she came next day he would introduce her to his friend. Mrs. Munn made her appearance on the next day and was introduced to Ford, who claimed to own the relinquishment of the section in question, N. E. y of section 20, township 8, range 16 west. S. B. M., and after an agreement was written which was to correy the ownership of the relinquishment to Mrs. Munn for the sum of $500. She was also to pay any further expense necessary to obtain the patent. Now Mrs. Munn claims that Ford could not give any relinquishment to the section as at the agreement was made and filled in the Recorder's office he had not filed on the section. In the evidence adduced it came out that Ford made his declaratory after the agreement had been made, and his brother, Mason C. Ford, who was the party who really had a right to relinquishment. Several witnesses were brought up by the defense to prove the good character of the defeadants. The case against Long for conspiracy was not convincing, and he was discharged, but F. Ford was held over in the sum of $1000.

Never did an audience enjoy musical and literary exercises with a keeser zest, and never were several hun-dred people brought together socially in a more agreeable manner. The social feature of these meetings is always one of their most popular attractions, and last evening it seemed as if there was no restraint upon the handshakings, good humor and con-grasticatory words indulged in during the ample recess. musical and literary exercises with a grastiatory words indulged in during the ample recess.

The programme prepared by Mr. Charles Ward and other members of the committee was elaborate, variegated and highly enjoyable. Every exercise was good and well received, but especially was this the case with the violin playing of Mr. Sampson, the elocution of Miss Grace Grathan, the singing of Mrs. Sarah Dunham, and the speeches of Judge Firman Church, formerly of Indiana, and Judge S. B. Smith, late of Illinois. The good-natured listeners were generous with their applause, and every participant in the formal exercises felt that these was no lack of appreciation.

A Lively Concert at the Methodist rt given at the Methodist, Churc Boyle Heights, last evening, proved to be an unusnally interesting and successful affair. The programme was well arranged and excellently rendered. The programme and excellently rendered. The programme was of such even merit throughout that it is difficult to particularize, but special mention may well be made of a portion of the programme. The singing of Miss Ida Collins was quite a treat, one rarely hears of off the operatic stage, a more enjoyable rendition of the charming airs fot "Non e Ver" and "Ernani" than this lady gave. Miss Fannie Tarr gave

A queer row occurred at a Main-street dychouse yesterday morning. The place is conducted by Philip Waltz and Mrs. Pfeiffer. The partners are of German extraction, with a large percentage of Dutch blood thrown in. When Philip talks English he thinks in Dutch, and when Mrs. Pfeiffer talks, her tongue goes at both ends. Yesterday uporning these once-loving partners both began to talk at the same time, and in a few seconds neither one knew what the other was talking about, and the result was that a young war-cloud was soon hovering on the horizon. Hot words led to blows, and the female partner was about to get away with the fight, when Philip awung a big pistol into range, and ejaculated:

"If you don't vos keep out of mine hair, py gracious und der difil. I shoots you in two pleces ver der dress tied around der middle vos."

The lady let go all hold, and lost no time

School children will earn much faster they are made comfortable and kept in perfectives. School, children was send kept in perfect they are made comfortable and kept in perfect health. Very few escape severe coughs and colds during the winter months. It is an easy matter to avoid the discomforts and distret of coughs and colds by using chamberiain Cough Remedy. It is by far the best treatment ever brought into general use for cough colds and hoarseness. When the first symptoms of a cold appear, use Chamberiain Cough Remedy, and the cold can be broke up at once. Seld by C. H. Hance, IT and Morth Spring street.

Promptness is a good motio. It is hard to find anything more prompt than St. Patrick' PHIs. They are a pleasant cathartic and to good medicine. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 ap. N North Spring street.

Lock Out for It.

Hoarseness is the first symptom of croup. By giving Chamberiain's Couph Remedy freely as cone as a child becomes hoarse it will prevent the croup, which can always be done if the remedy is kept at hand. There is not the cast danger in giving it. Sold by C. H. Hanco There never has been a family medicine sold in the Western States that has become so popular as Chamber'sin's Colic, Choiers and Diarhoes Hemedy. It is a universal favorite lold by C. H.
